The “Enfant terrible” of fashion – transported in style in the Flair

Jean Paul Gaultier sweeps up to the front of his Munich exhibition in the design motorhome by Niesmann+Bischoff

How to surprise one of the most prominent fashion designer in the world? With a shuttle of a most unusual kind. Jean Paul Gaultier got in and was enthralled. A motorhome? A Flair.

After landing at Munich Airport, Gaultier travelled south, past the English Garden, into the centre of the Bavarian metropolis.

The Flair, awarded amongst other things the Red Dot 2015 for high design quality, is the most automotive model amongst luxury motorhomes. It features plenty of functional conveniences on board, which visibly delighted its famous passenger.

The destination of the French designer and founder of the fashion company which bears his name was the Kunsthalle art gallery located a good 38 kilometres away from the airport.

There, the exhibition “Jean Paul Gaultier: From the Sidewalk to the Catwalk” can be experienced until 14th February 2016. It is the 100th exhibition at the Kunsthalle – and at the same time the first fashion presentation. Niesmann+Bischoff is the partner for this premiere.
